Final Comments:

It has been my honor and privilege to serve as Vice-President, President, and Past-President of the Art Libraries Society of North America. The Society is indeed fortunate to have many dedicated members who are willing to serve on the Executive Board. These members freely give of their time and expertise and in doing so, continue the work of previous Executive Boards and make it relevant for those coming after us. I wish to thank all the Executive Board members who have served during my three years of tenure. I, too, wish to thank the numerous ARLIS/NA members who serve in various capacities of leadership. These are the unsung heroes of our Society.

The Executive Board has embarked on several important collaborative ventures in the past three years. I will only mention a few of these. One is communicating with Executive Board members of the Visual Resources Association on issues of mutual importance. A second completed project was the collaboration with the University of Chicago Press to electronically publish Art Documentation. And last but not least, the Executive Board has been in regular communication with TEI, our Association and Conference Management Company. The TEI staff has continued to be of invaluable assistance to our membership and to me during my three year term on the Executive Board.

We can look forward to the Society being relevant to change and progress as the ARLIS/NA Strategic Plan, 2011-2015, implements its action plans. I am confident that ARLIS/NA will continue to be a vital and important library organization in the years ahead.
