19 members and guests were in attendance of the Fall Business Meeting. Following orders of business was a roundtable discussion and presentation by Carl Scmitz. Smitz, of the Diebenkorn Foundation, presented the work of his organization’s endeavors, which includes working towards becoming a “formal” nonprofit and potentially collaborating with chapter members on projects at their libraries. The meeting was followed by tours of the Leonard Library’s new facilities, the Sutro Library, and the University’s Special Collections and Labor Archives.

Spring Meeting

F.W. Olin Library, Mills College, Oakland, CA
11 members and guests attended the spring meeting. This was a joint meeting with VRA (Visual Resources Association), Northern California Chapter. The business meetings of each group were held separately. Following orders of business, the two organizations reconvened for a roundtable discussion about art databases and other bibliographic utilities. The meeting was followed by tours of the Book Art facilities, University architecture, and Special Collections.

Activities

The chapter has been actively building its online presence to reach new potential members through the use of various local listservs and by creating a chapter Facebook page, which currently has 41 likes. A PayPal feature has also been added so that our members can conveniently pay membership dues or donate online through the chapter website. The chapter used the online application, Survey Monkey, to approve this PayPal feature as well as to vote remotely for the 2013 election.
